

Does Your Tax Advisor Make Housecalls?

Landman, Roll and Associates offers personal attention to its clients, whenever and wherever needed. We confidentially address all of your small business and personal tax planning and compliance needs in the privacy of your own living room or office, at prices that are extremely competitive with your current accounting firm. Each of the firm's principals has an education well beyond a law degree.

Samuel Landman holds a post-doctorate degree in tax-law. Russell Roll is also a certified public accountant, and a former tax manager with Hill, Barth & King.

Scheduling a consultation is a phone call away.
